Dear families,

I must start by reflecting on the tragedy faced within the Eastfield community this week and thank everyone for their support and sensitivity. Putting a school into lockdown is never an easy decision to make, however my priority will always be the children and keeping them safe in school. We have a very clear and comprehensive critical incident plan / policy in place and whilst it can seem scary for families, the staff and children know what to do and what is expected of them when the lockdown bell sounds. The police will remain a presence around school for parents and children to talk to - please do engage with them, if you need support.

On a more positive note, it was lovely to see our children smiling again yesterday and enjoying World Book Day! Throughout the day, we explored our emotions and feelings and the school was a sea of red, blue, yellow and green.

Congratulations to our Stars of the Week!
